The following passage of this introduction was taken from Charles Dicken's A Tale Of Two Cities

It and the rest of the book is an attempt to show every aspect of our lives here. Its main purpose is to serve as a reminder of the good times, so we can cherish them — the bad ones, so that one day we can laugh at them — our accomplishments, so that one day we can be proud of them — and our failures so that one day we can learn from them.

President of Frederick Military Academy

The 1976-77 school year at FMA was a year of change, and anybody who can't remember it as a busy year certainly has a short memory. The new dormitory, family-style dining, conversion from detachment to company-oriented programs, competitive intramurals, and a full scale extra-class program – these and other changes kept all of us busy. As we look back in time over the year, we can all take pride in having been part of something new, difficult, and fine.

It was my special pleasure to arrive last August to direct the changes. But for one thing, it would have been a grueling year. Put simply, cadets are fun to be with. Your successes, your sorrows, and your pranks made it all worthwhile. You're a great group. To the departing seniors, my special thanks for cooperating to make things go. To the returning classes, my wish for an even better 1977-78. God bless you all.

Good-Bye To Col. Inscoe and Family

Perhaps the hardest word in the English language is "Good-bye". This year of 1976 Frederick had to say it to Philip G. Inscoe and his family. Jerry, as he was known to his friends, faculty, and staff was President of Frederick Military Academy for fifteen years. He devoted his life, his energy, and his family to put Frederick on the stage as a school to be reckoned with.

His wife, Anne, was as much a part of the school as was Jerry. She was a secretary, the Media Center and reading paraprofessional, and always prepared to be a leading actress in Fredericks' productions.

Needless to say Frederick will miss them very much ----- their keen interest in every phase of Frederick's life, their devotion, their loyalty, and above all their love.

Good-bye from a grateful school — and our love.

Mutability

Though laden with tradition Frederick is not immune to change. One of the more apparent alterations the construction of a new dormitory, it is the first of many major changes planned for the physical appearance of the campus.

The Military Ball

Lord, would you look at that 6 ft. roach!

I think, I just stapled my leg.

I'm so excited I could just . . . !

The Grand March

To the new cadet, the military procedures can be confusing, but in time, they become a way of life for each cadet.

At Frederick, the rules and regulations are to be followed by everyone. When they are broken, the individual must suffer the consequences.

You work hard, and you think that you have it right, but there's always someone to say "You can do it better."

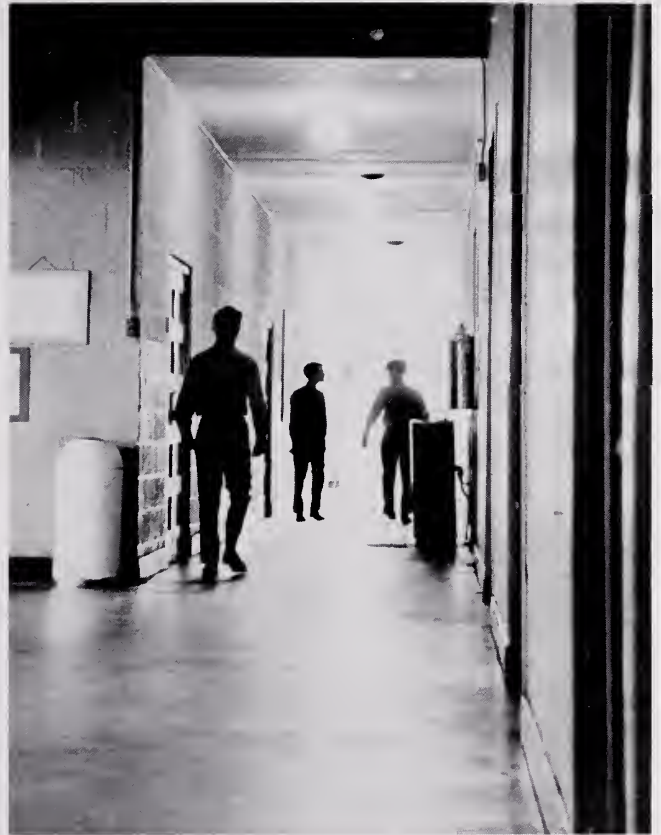

Always someplace to go and something to do. The rush never seems to end.

When you are winning, it seems like you are on the top of the world with everyone behind you.

When you have lost, you feel all alone with not a friend in the world.

We may be a small school,
but you can always find a friend.

Hardwork and the coping with duties
reaps a feeling of achievement and honor.

To get someplace, there always seems to be numerous channels in the way.

Traditions are for remembering and keeping certain ideas alive.
Frederick is tradition.

Frederick strives on teamwork and the idea that everyone should do their best no matter how small the task is.

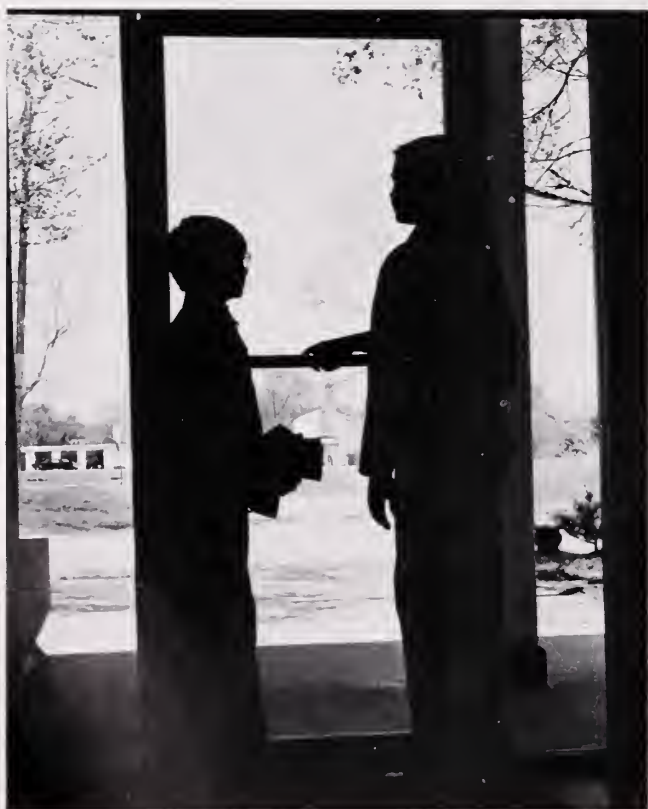

There are a lot of moments in the making of a memory.

This is the Frederick experience.

Being of Sound Mind and Body . . .

Joe Bailes would first of all like to leave my knee brace to Coach Smith and hope it will never be filled again.

To Ms. Sparrow, the librarian I leave now, to back 10 years and see you again.

To Col. Haas I leave four extra three minute showers and all the hot water in the world and all the problems of Frederick.

To the future company commander of "A" company I leave the best tact officer there is and a sharp company to keep it going.

To Col. Ayers I leave his typing class and all the paddles in the world.

To the Corps of Cadets, I leave!

To Mac at the Supply Hall I leave all those darn rain coats and battle jackets etc. that we spent so long looking up.

I Jeff Campbell leave the Junior Class the luck of a good year.

To Maj. Larson I leave the best Hall on campus (Brown). Also I leave him a good company commander. Who ever it may be.

To the senior class I leave great times and the hopes for success in life.

To Lt. Lewis I leave all the Frank Zappa albums in the world.

To Jimmy Parron I leave luck and a picture of Charles M.

To Coach Barnes I leave nothing because all that soccer I learned from him I am taking with me.

To John Hardes I leave a West Point uniform to sleep in.

And to the Frederick Military Academy wrestling team I leave all my sweat, my blood, my tears and my good times that I shared with the team during the good and bad times we had. Good luck in the future.

To Mike Elliott I leave a three minute timer for his show.

To the "Cookie Monster" I leave a picture of Mohammad Ali.

I Mark Border leave to Maj. Larson a survival kit and compass for when he goes to inspect my room.

To Coach Smith I leave Paul Forte and Shon Walter.

To Col. Plaine I leave four Years of excellent military guidance and the thought that you are "Frederick."

To Col. Plaine I also leave sincerity for this year and Elizabeth and years of good luck.

To John Hardess I leave a set of neon-lighted pips so he can wake up at night and make sure they are still there.

To Pat Gillroy I leave Parrish Hall along with patrols of tracks and all the other good times.

To Col. Haas I leave a 12 gallon bottle of Grecian formula 16 for all the grey hairs obtained this year.

To Chewy (Louis Fronkier) I leave the memories of all the good times together and wish the best of luck in finding the right girl.

To Lee Liskey, I leave the art of your hit and miss technique.

To Frederick I leave with great pride and thanks for everything it has done for me.

To John Strait, do hereby leave to Lee Liskey, a second try.

To Shon Walter, the bathroom wall in Morris 4B,

To Major Sale I leave thanks for help received in English this year and hopefully the remnants of sanity he has left after 5th period.

To the football and soccer teams I leave best wishes for a good season next year.

And Finally to Frederick I leave my sanity.

To Daniel Thorne, hereby leave the world the 8th wonder – F.M.A.

To Alejaudio Vega Aauchey, I would like to say these couple of words for two years in this school, I learn many things from this place, also from the members of the school and with their help to pass in every subject, and to all members I say thank you for all your help to me and thanks for helping me learn English, which is going to help me very much in life.

Now I am ready to leave and I want to say to Coach Barnes I had really good times playing soccer and I want you to have a good team next year and good luck.

To Shon Merritt Walter do hereby leave Mr. Jeffery who helped me through the three years of cataclysmic disaster, all my talent imitating David Bowie and one Todd Rundren initiation album cover with no L.P.

To Sam Lewis I leave a key to my office and my deep thanks for a great friendship.

To Randall Brooks I leave an endless recording of OM NAMA SHIUAYA.

To my little brother I leave one toilet handle, one picture of Hx and my thanks for being my brother.

To Mrs. Smith I leave thanks and appreciation, "Mrs. Smith, you make great brownies."

To the little red head on campus I leave a copy of the song "Don't you ever learn".

To Brian McHerney, I leave my ability to do as good as possible only to blow it by having a friendly "party".

To John Hopkins, I leave the honor, the pride, loyalty and the knowledge of a military system. Use it wisely and you will achieve anything you can wish for.

To Lee Liskey, I leave Eliabeth Homer and 1 neon sign reading, "Welcome to the Hotel Liskey".

To Jeff "Whimpy" Campell, I leave a gold plated set of tools, so he may establish his mechanical ability.

To Bill "Yok" Foreman, I leave 1 book on water skiing and the hope that he reads it. I also leave memories of good times at Frederick.

To Chris Monnette leave Maj. Darnell's class next year 3 free visits to the Chaplain, because they will definitely need it. They will have a personal problem. Also my "Solid State Polish Digital Calculator."

I leave Maj. Sale all of my stupendis stupidity to illuminate and illucidate his entire year.

I leave to Col. Haas my 3 min. timer for mounting on his bathroom wall.

To the Junior class, I leave English IV, Government, Physics, and all the nights of enjoyment that go along with them.

To Chris Moolhoyien leave to Jeff Harris a two week supply of black socks, so he won't wear the same ones for a week.

To Lt. Rewis that Chemistry book "Solving Chemistry Problems Step by Step" which didn't help me a bit.

To the people in Fox Hall, I leave the record for atomic set-ups light in ten minutes.

To the wrestling team I leave, all the enjoyment I had on the team and best of luck next year.

I Pete Panzeri, leave to Col. Haas, a haircut and a set of Lt. pips that have been on and off my shoulder for 9 months.

To Maj. Darnell, I leave a Frog with Wings, so it won't bump into its teacher.

To Maj. Sale I leave a toilet seat with sensitivity.

To Coach Canassa I leave a road map to Portsmouth Catholic and to the all night 7-11.

To the rest of the Corps I leave F.M.A.

A Letter From The Editor

I address this letter to the Board of Trustees, administration, faculty, parents, alumni, and corps of cadets.

In these next few words I hope to establish a precedent among all my successors by discussing the annual itself, the theme, the people responsible, generally what it takes to publish the book.

When I accepted the position as editor I had no experience nor did my staff. I immediately realized the responsibility I was undertaking, for to produce a yearbook today is a very serious and expensive venture.

Likewise I approached the overall theme with a serious tone, I attempted to establish a historical, pictorial, commentary of the events and atmosphere of the campus.

I would like to take time now to recognize those who were instrumental in attaining this goal.

Major Sale for without his invaluable experience, advice and special talent all would have been lost.

Mrs. Perkinson and Mrs. Barnes, the staff's other faculty advisors, their time and patience is most gratefully acknowledged.

Joe Bourne, our lone photographer whose dedication and efforts will not be soon forgotten.

Cindi Matthews, my co-editor who stuck it out and came through when it was needed the most.

In closing I would like to say that, in attempting to produce a quality product the staff soon encountered immense difficulty. Weather conditions cut our deadlines very short and trying to organize time and people who both at times were not very cooperative.

But overlooking the weak points and there are a few I will admit, I believe 77 is an improvement and hopefully a pacesetter in the years to come but our success will be measured only in your estimation on whether we succeeded in accurately portraying Frederick.

Respectfully,

Deborah L. Ross
